What is Avuncular?

"Avuncular" is an adjective that translates from its Latin origin to refer to one who is a "maternal uncle," specifically to his nephew(s). The word is meant to encapsulate that relationship dynamic; a best friend and family member all wrapped up into one. But we prefer the broader, more modern interpretation. You see, you don't have to be an uncle, a nephew, or even a man to be avuncular! Avuncular people are all around us. They're the "honorary" family members; the mentors who go the extra mile to encourage and inspire; the jovial neighbors who always wave back. If your favorite moments in life are those spent taking in the scenery with great company, then it sounds like you might be avuncular, too! Here at Avuncular Bob's we see it as our mission to spread this message in our Colorado communities and beyond! We hope to contribute in our own small way to building a friendlier, happier, more avuncular world. Thank you for visiting us today!
